

Delineation of the American Prison System

Every bean has its black. There is nothing more to retort than this: In one sentence, the atmosphere is severe. Jail is clouded. There are many inside-mates. It's introverted and concrete. Men are in an excited state in all ways. Prisonsexies are treated brutally and manhandedly. Polices in American jails hit them down. They develop eye circles. In-buddies face racism, disjustice, bleeding-starvation, delirium tremens, and many coats. Some get four or five coats a year with a lot of nose shit and sputum. The food is annoying and often there is non-delivery of cookies or home-coked food. Instead, there are drugs and sexual urge magazines. You must for yourself imagine the toilet flavor. The prisoneers have vindicating traits but there is a fuck of education. Inadditionally, many, once released just crime again! The flowers boom on this beautiful blue star: Earth. But then prison came into been. Trees blood and spout.
